

	Contributors	1
Chapter 1	Addressing Human Trafficking in the State Courts: Background and Approach	5
	John A. Martin, Center for Public Policy Studies
Chapter 2	Community Courts, Specialized Dockets, and Other Approaches to Address Sex Trafficking	37
	Katie Crank, Center for Court Innovation
Chapter 3	Human Trafficking and Immigrant Victims: What Can State Courts Do?	47
	Steven Weller, Center for Public Policy Studies Angie Junck, Immigrant Legal Resource Center
Chapter 4	Child Trafficking Victims and the State Courts	77
	Miriam Goodman, Center for Court Innovation Julie Laurence, Girls Educational Mentoring Services
Chapter 5	Identifying and Responding to Sex Trafficking	89
	Miriam Goodman and Robyn Mazur, Center for Court Innovation
Chapter 6	Ethical Issues for Judges and Court Practitioners in Human Trafficking-Involved Cases	101
	Steven Weller, Center for Public Policy Studies Judge Elizabeth Lee, San Mateo County, California, Superior Court Judge Dana Leigh Marks, President, National Association of Immigration Judges
Chapter 7	The Affordable Care Act: Assisting Victims of Human Trafficking in Rebuilding Their Lives	129
	Peter Coolsen, Cook County Illinois Circuit Court
Chapter 8	Tribal Justice and Sex Trafficking	135
	Kathryn Ford, Center for Court Innovation
Chapter 9	Addressing the Complexities of Language and Culture in Human Trafficking-Involved Cases	141
	John A. Martin, Center for Public Policy Studies
Chapter 10	Labor Trafficking	167
	Steve Weller, Center for Public Policy Studies John A. Martin, Center for Public Policy Studies
Chapter 11	Human Trafficking Educational Resources for Judges and Court Practitioners	183
	William J. Brunson, The National Judicial College Steven Weller, Center for Public Policy Studies Marie Komisar, National Association of Women Judges John A. Martin, Center for Public Policy Studies

HUMAN TRAFFICKING
AND THE STATE COURTS COLLABORATIVE